BY PETER EDSON

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Venezuela is today the principal mecca for volunteer immigrants from the old world to the new. The country has only six million inhabitants and needs 10 million more.

That is why Venezuela today has one of the most liberal immigration policies of any western hemisphere country. It is also why the man who is under 40, has no police record, and can get a health certificate, can get a visa.

And that is why the unloading of 10,000 immigrants a day at the port of La Guaira, the Caribbean port half an hour away from this capital city by superhighway, is a sight to see.

Those come from all over the world, with little more than the clothes on their backs. Principally they come from Italy, Portugal, Spain and the Canary Islands. Venezuela is now preparing to take its full quota of Hungarian refugees.

Hungarian refugees immigrants get almost immediate citizenship. Others have to wait longer. But the main end of this immigration drive will be to change the character of the population.

Hungarian immigration has doubled and redoubled in the past 10 years and is now overwhelming.

It was under 10,000 in 1945, over 50,000 in 1955 and will pass the 50,000 mark this year.

The reasons aren't hard to find, says Ivan Vazquez, president of the Inter-American Committee on Migration from here. He can earn the equivalent of $100 a month working a construction job, which is more than most immigrants start.

Living four to a room and eating principally spaghetti, fruit and coffee, an Italian immigrant can save the equivalent of $100 a month. That's 50,000 lire in Italy and there's a lot of money. A postman in Italy gets 30,000 lire a month.

Also, the newly arrived Italian emigrant in Venezuela writes home: "I eat two bananas for lunch every day."

Now, BECAUSE the Italian government has to absorb the banana crop of Eritrea, it runs a banana monopoly and the prices are so high that few Italian postmen can afford two bananas a day.

The word goes out. And postmen the young bucks start asking their government for transportation subsidies which they give to encourage the emigration of their surplus population.

The result: Venezuela is currently the largest immigrant who have got rich quick. They have made their savings and open a restaurant, buy an apartment house, or become contractors.

But when some of the immigrants have saved as much as $100,000, which is a fortune in Venezuela, they go back home, buy a business of their own and settle down where the who costs less.

Approximately 30 percent of Venezuela's immigrants are from Italy. They have made a small pile and this is a living avaricious people.

The difficulties which today beset Britain and France represent a re-play, in a somewhat different key, of the problems which troubled them and all Western Europe after World War II. Congress acted then, too, because the danger was plainly clear.

Yet it hardly seems likely, as long as too much to expect our legislators to hold a steady line of Europe. It is important to us that in their minds. Only a moderate amount of immigration is required. No one should have to be hit over the head with a crisis before acting to preserve America's and the free world's best interests.

PITFALLS OF BUSINESS

Thomas P. Murphy, author of "A Business of Your Own," says the first of a number of pitfalls is going into a business that duplicates an established venture. For example, a man may put up a fourth gas station at a crossroads where there are already three.

Another mistake is to develop a product or a service that is bound to be a losing affair even if its potential market is saturated. A typical case would be a man who opens a sporting goods store in a town of just 700 families. He couldn't possibly sell enough to earn a profit.

"Very often, too, people plunge into business without enough money to tide them over the initial period. They may need to figure carefully the financial requirements to bring their venture through this period."

Murphy's final "pitfall" is a very human one—incompetence. But, unhappily, it's one that a good many would-be entrepreneurs are not able to get around.

He suggests that if a man's proposed venture won't match his salary at his old job and won't bring him 10 to 20 per cent return on his investment, he should abandon the project forthwith.

STILL DANGEROUS

The point is often made that because the American Communist party constitutes a relatively small group that it's a pretty harmless outfit and we don't have to worry.

It's true, of course, that there isn't much danger of the Communists as a party either winning an American election or seizing the reins of government by force.

But we know full well that U. S. reds, being in fact agents of the Soviet union, have done tremendous harm to this nation by stealing its atomic and other secrets. The spy trials and convictions of recent years are ample proof.

We have a fresh example which, in point of time, is older than the spy case. It is noted in Donald Whitehead's book, "The FBI Story." This is it:

In World War II, our atomic project was so secret the FBI wasn't told of it. But the agency learned of it anyway. How? From Communists they tracked on the West Coast. The reds knew more than one of our most vital government agencies. Harmless indeed!

REFUGEE PROBLEMS

Quick refugee legislation will be one of the first jobs facing congress when it reconvenes.

First it will be asked to consider bills now being written which will propose to give the 15,000 Hungarian refugees being admitted on "parole" status a "permanent resident" status.

This could be controversial legislation because it will have to specify what qualifications these refugees must meet in order to become permanent residents. Under the parole arrangement they really have no status at all until congress acts they're in a legal "parole" land.

The combination of a free oil industry working with skill and imagination, of good conservation laws and farming tax statutes, has paid off for America. Now it's paying off for our Western European friends, too.—New York World-Telegram.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

POT SHOTS

THE (ARMED) UNUSUAL

Now we're just no getting around it—Twain's right. For, naturally, this sort of thing is unusual for Twin Falls, we have to explain before the Chamber of Commerce feels it necessary to take a look.

However, if you heard any report of a boy swimming around some feed lot, it was nothing but a great exaggeration, probably perpetrated by someone from Oregon. What he would have to do is swim across the Columbia River, because that was an Oregonian that "made" Oregon and hit Idaho.

WE DECLINE, THANK YOU

Peter Edson:

That is why the unloading of 10,000 immigrants here get almost immediate citizenship. Others have to wait longer. But the main end of this immigration drive will be to change the character of the population.

Hungarian immigration has doubled and redoubled in the past 10 years and is now overwhelming. It was under 10,000 in 1945, over 50,000 in 1955 and will pass the 50,000 mark this year.

Now, BECAUSE the Italian government has to absorb the banana crop of Eritrea, it runs a banana monopoly and the prices are so high that few Italian postmen can afford two bananas a day.

The word goes out. And postmen the young bucks start asking their government for transportation subsidies which they give to encourage the emigration of their surplus population.

The altered attitude among congressmen will be welcomed in many quarters where there is recognition of the peril injected into world affairs by the fluidity of present conditions. Once old patterns crumble, few patterns can foretell what events will follow.

Actually, though, there will inevitably be some regret that it requires a crisis to bring congress to full realization of America's stake in a sound and stable Europe.

The difficulties which today beset Britain and France represent a re-play, in a somewhat different key, of the problems which troubled them and all Western Europe after World War II. Congress acted then, too, because the danger was plainly clear.

Yet it hardly seems likely, as long as too much to expect our legislators to hold a steady line of Europe. It is important to us that in their minds. Only a moderate amount of immigration is required. No one should have to be hit over the head with a crisis before acting to preserve America's and the free world's best interests.

Five Die, 20 Hurt in Trio of Accidents

By United Press
Five persons have been killed in two accidents involving trucks and 20 persons were hospitalized when a bus and truck crashed near Lincoln, Neb., and burned to death.

The first accident occurred in the pine forest when four persons died in the flame-seared wreckage of two trucks and an automobile west of Texarkana, Tex.

Authorities said an Army truck from the Red River arsenal smashed head-on into a grain truck on Highway 82, about 10 miles west of Texarkana. The Army truck drove into the wreckage and touched off a fire.

Killed were Mrs. Jessie Hopper, 48, of Texarkana; her daughter, Mrs. Edna Wood, 26, of Dekalb; Mrs. Curtis Carlton, 34, Brazoria, Tex.; and an unidentified soldier driving the Army truck. The driver of the grain truck escaped, but was injured.

The driver of a gasoline truck was killed late yesterday when the vehicle crashed and exploded at Cheryville, Mo., and set a series of fires along the gas line down U.S. highway 45.

The truck, loaded with 7,000 gallons of gasoline, rammed into a tree in the gas line, causing a fire in the community and flames from the wreckage burned down a nearby home.

The driver, Robert L. Metzger, 33, Missouri City, Mo., was trapped in the car and burned to death.

The truck exploded on impact with the tree, and then blew up a second time, killing the driver and his passenger.

Twenty persons were injured at Lincoln, Neb., when a bus and truck collided in flames on a city street.

The "Trailways" bus was en route from Lincoln to Omaha when the crash occurred. Bus driver Bob Allison, 21, Lincoln, was the only one killed in the vehicle, apparently a result of a broken tie rod.

Witnesses said gasoline from the truck exploded several times.

Former Resident Claimed by Death

JEROME, Dec. 28 — Word has been received here of the death of Fred V. Stein, last of the Stein family in Jerome, in Portland, Ore. He was born in Alexandria, Ida., in 1920. He married Edna Sinclair approximately 15 years ago in Gooding. They were former residents of Jerome.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter, Marilyn Stein, three sons, Richard, Robert and David, and a son, Beem, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Beem, Jerome; three brothers, Arthur Beem and Truman Beem, both Jerome, and Kenneth Beem, Portland; two sons, Florida, and two sisters, Mrs. Chester Rice, Wendell, and Mrs. John Xebel, Jerome.

He was a member of the Freshmen choir and active in Boy Scout work. Funeral services were held at Portland Monday. Concluding rites were held at Riverview Cemetery in Portland.

Sheriff Reports 2 Minidoka Mishaps

RUPERT, Dec. 27 — Two minor accidents were reported Thursday by the sheriff's office.

At noon Tuesday at the intersection of 3rd and C streets, Gerald T. Banks, 21, of Rupert, and a 1955 Ford and Roy G. McNeil, 25, of Heyburn, driving a 1948 Pontiac, collided. Each driver said he did not see the other. Banks' car, a truck and trailer house parked to her corner. Approximately $400 damage was done to the Ford and $150 to the Pontiac, Sheriff Roy John said.

At 9:25 a. m. Wednesday at a rural intersection on highway 23, Deputy Eldon Hunter investigated an accident between a 1954 Silverside truck, driven by Francis Carter, Burley, and a 1951 Dodge sedan driven by Mrs. Banks. Hunter, who said he had to turn the car for a last-hand turn and as he started to turn Mrs. Banks started to pass him.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery
un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "dry" colon. A "dry" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite, and the colon loses much moisture until its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so dry that they do not excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shriveled contents of your colon, which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, build up a bowel that will move it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A RULK LAXATIVE can re-moisten this dry, shriveled bowel. It must be a bulk laxative to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the

Government Analysts Predicting Big Church Boom in Nation During 1957

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Government experts predict 1957 will bring a continued church building boom in history.

A record $75 million was spent during 1956 new and enlarged church structures synonymous with Sunday school buildings and other religious buildings.

Commerce department analysts expect a continuing upward trend in religious construction during the coming year. That would make the total outlay a whopping $275 million.

This is a lot of money to spend on churches, even in America. It is, for example, seven times as much as the 1955 figure, and 20 times the 1937 total.

The church building boom is the concrete-and-steel expression of an equally phenomenal increase in church membership. The latest figure compiled by the Yearbook of American Churches indicates that for the calendar year 1955 showed church membership at an all-time high of more than 50 million, the highest of more than 50 years since 1940.

Sunday school enrollment also has been climbing rapidly, from 20 million in 1930 to 29 million in 1955. The number of children, especially in suburban congregations, has been a main source of the pressure on churches to expand their physical facilities.

For churches planning to take the plunge into building projects during 1957, here are some tips from the experts:

The church building boom is the concrete-and-steel expression of an

Chinese Reds Rap Yugoslav In Stalin View

TOKYO, Dec. 28 (UPI)—Communist China assailed Marshal Tito today as a threat to the international communist movement.

It also criticized Tito and other Yugoslav communist leaders for their views on Josef Stalin and his methods and said they were "going反共" (anti-Soviet).

The rebukes were contained in a long article to appear in the Saturday edition of the official People's Daily, which was broadcast in summarized form by Radio Peking.

It is understandable that the Yugoslav comrades bear a particular resentment against Stalin's mistakes. We also agree with some of the points in Tito's speech (at Pula), but we are amazed that . . . he attacked almost all the socialist countries and many of the communist parties.

Tito, it added, took a "wrong attitude" when he maintained the idea now widely held in the international communist movement that "the Stalinist course" would win out.

Such a contention, the article said, "can only lead to a split in the communist movement."

"Even if some part of their criticism of brother parties is reasonable, the method and method they adopt infringe the principles of comradeship," the newspaper said.

The matters concerned are so vital that they are of international communist that we cannot but offer our brotherly advice to the Yugoslav comrades," the newspaper said.

The communist New China News Agency broadcast excerpts from a 14,000-word article entitled "More on the Historical Errors of the October Revolution of the Proletariat."

It said the article was prepared by the editorial department of the newspaper on behalf of the Chinese People's Association of the political bureau of the central committee of the Communist party of China.

The article said Stalin "displayed certain great national chauvinism tendencies in relations with brother parties and countries."

The late Soviet dictator, it added, "had a very favorable attitude to the progress of the Soviet Union and international communism, but also made serious mistakes in both domestic and foreign policies."

It charged that the attitude of Tito and his associates toward Stalin's mistakes and other related questions . . . cannot be regarded by us as well balanced or objective.

Savant Elected

SEATTLE, Dec. 28 (UPI)—Delegates to the 30th annual meeting of the National Scientific Association yesterday named S. Warren Hobbs of Spokane as president for the coming year.

Hobbs, a member of the U. S. geological survey at Spokane, succeeds Prof. F. B. Farquharson of the University of Washington.

Work of Mad Bomber Seen In 2 Devices

NEW YORK Dec. 28 (UPI) — TWO home-made bombs, believed to be the work of the "mad bomber" who has terrorized New York for 18 years, were at the Party City store at the Grand Central station.

The latest of the maniac's "calling cards" was a note in a cigar case, which read: "At 8:45 A.M. EST stop the pneumatic hinge of a door at a taxi entrance to the station. A similar note was found at the Party City store, from the area preceding the spot where a pipe bomb exploded last week.

Remove Device

Bomb squad detectives using a blast-proof truck swiftly removed the two devices, which had been encased in an hour earlier following the last show.

An unidentified woman, discovered as a suspect, was believed to be the bomb yesterday afternoon in the lower level of the Grand Central terminal. It was unlike the lethal weapons planted in the Party City store, which was a timing device.

Work of Mad Bomber Seen In 2 Devices

NEW YORK, Dec. 28 (UPI)—The home-made pipe bombs used in the work of the "mad bomber" who has terrorized New York for 18 years, were found today. One was in a safe at the Grand Central station.

The latest of the maniac's "clue" came when a bomb was found in a taxi entrance to the station. Vehicular traffic was stopped by a police cordon as the area pending inspection by the police bomb squad.

Bomb Is Similar

The device was a disassembled pipe bomb, capped at both ends. It was similar in size to the known products of the "mad bomber." It was exploded yesterday at 10:15 p.m. since 1940, but it was not wrapped in a sock as most of the bombers have been.

A second bomb, which a reporter was shown from a seat of the Paramount theater in Times Square early today, as a result of a telephone call from a friend, was found to be the "mad bomber." It had been planted only a few rows from the spot where a pipe bomb exploded last year.

Married in Jerome Church

MR. AND MRS. WELDON K. WEIGLE
(Ambrose photo—staff engraving)Weldon Weigle,
Caroline Yingst
Wed in Church

JEROME, Dec. 28—Caroline Yingst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Yingst, and the bride of Weldon K. Weigle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Weigle, Dec. 19 in the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Dr. John Pardus performed the double ring ceremony before a background of white candles, holy and evergreen.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a batternia length, princess style gown of antique ivory silk taffeta with embroidered roses, fashioned with a scoop neckline and a wide belt. The jacket had three-fourths length sleeves and buttoned at the neck. Her fingerless veil of nylon tulle was edged with tiny lace.

She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and green vellum with white streamers, decorated with white ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rediker, slater of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Mrs. Vern Harvey, Mrs. Fern and Mrs. W. Weigle, were bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Ingram, Idaho Falls, and Mrs. Elynn L. Davis, Jerome.

For the trip to Salt Lake City, the bride had a white batternia length, princess style gown of antique ivory silk taffeta with embroidered roses, fashioned with a scoop neckline and a wide belt. The jacket had three-fourths length sleeves and buttoned at the neck. Her fingerless veil of nylon tulle was edged with tiny lace.

They wore purple orchids.

A reception was held in the church of the bride. The bride was dressed in a sage green dress, with a wide belt and a wide battenberg lace collar.

The bride was dressed from Jerome high school in 1953 and from St. Alphonsus school of nursing in 1955. She is employed at St. Benedict's hospital in Jerome.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Weigle's wedding, Mrs. Yingst wore a rose shantung, white dress and black accessories. Mrs. Weigle wore a beige lace dress with beige and white accessories.

The stories of our great women should be told again and again to inspire our boys and girls. Lack of education, lack of the advantages of modern men, women, who are the leaders of our country as they are now, and by hard work and endurance succeeded in doing what they dreamed of doing in their day.

Our history is rich in stories of such people. Starting with the Pilgrim fathers on up to modern men and women, who are the leaders of our country as they are now, and by hard work and endurance succeeded in doing what they dreamed of doing in their day.

The story of Lincoln should be an inspiration to our boys and girls.

Expansion Cut Is Foreseen in Steel Tax Acts

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (UPI)—In doing a fast tax cut, except for new steel, the Senate may have let some of the steam out of the business expansion program, that is, making money so tight.

At the same time he may have put still more steam into the pressure for still higher prices.

These appear to be the purpose involved in this way:

Some steel companies say they will defer or reconsider part of their program to the market-making committee. Others say they will go on building but must have higher prices to pay for it.

And if steel prices do go up again, as now seems likely, it will work on other industries as it did last summer and fall and build up pressure for higher prices all along the line.

The steel industry had asked tax allowances through a fast depreciation allowance for the proposed new farm bill to total nearly $1 billion dollars.

Washington refused the Wednesday.

If the building programs are halved or delayed, the other industries for no greater reason than by delays in getting structural steel.

This would cut somewhat the big program of industrial expansion over it over more months and years than first planned. Washington has estimated the expansion would bring a new peak in the years just ahead.

Even before the steel tax decision, however, there had been a few signs of slowing down in the building program that had strained the financial markets.

General Electric has announced it is holding up three building plans because too many people are assigned to all at the same time.

The other companies aren't likely to give up their programs because they have lost it is the decision to fast, written down, the new building and furnish structural steel for industrial building and more place for the builders of oil tankers and freighters.

The general argument about depreciation allowances, however, is that they are no longer realistic.

Steelmen say the cost of replacing old steel mills is so much higher than the mills are built but that they should be allowed more liberal allowances in writing off the depreciation of their mills—that it should be based on the cost of replacing rather than on the basis of original cost.

Negro Minister's House Bombed

Three persons, including two children, escaped with minor injuries Christmas day when a dynamite bomb exploded in the fire-room home of the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Negro integration leader in Birmingham, Ala., said Rev. Mr. Shuttlesworth said the bombing would not deter his fight against segregation.

Report Avers Japan to Stop Surplus Buys

TOKYO, Dec. 26 (UPI)—Kyodo News Service reported that Japan's new government decided tentatively to do away with its policy of buying American farm surplus products, and to buy Australian wheat on regular account instead.

Government officials refused to comment directly but Foreign Minister Nobusuke Kishi told reporters after a cabinet meeting that the new policy would continue to continue the past policy of buying American farm surplus products. The policy requires re-examination.

The new government has recommended a final decision.

Kyodo said Japan "will not buy any

American surplus products

next year unless it is required by

Japan this year imported about 750,000 tons of American wheat on regular account and about 1,000,000 tons of American surplus crop agreements.

This accounted for about half of the country's wheat imports.

The new government of Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama had decided tentatively to buy American surplus and reject an Australian offer of lower tariffs on Japanese products as an inducement.
